Thermo Fisher Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Policy

Thermo Fisher Scientific Inc. and each of its subsidiaries (collectively, “Thermo Fisher” or the “Company”) has four key corporate values of Integrity, Intensity, Innovation, and Involvement forming the foundation of our business. Thermo Fisher is committed to upholding and respecting human rights for all people by conducting business with the highest ethical standards and in compliance with applicable laws and Company policy, including providing equal employment opportunity and ethical employment practices. This Thermo Fisher Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Policy (this “Policy”) establishes standards for global business conduct related to human rights and labor and provides a cornerstone for Thermo Fisher to identify and manage its human rights impacts and mitigate applicable risks.

To provide a safe, healthy, fair and respectful work environment, colleagues are expected to work and conduct business in alignment with the below expectations. This Policy applies to all Thermo Fisher employees, contractors, agents, and others through whom Thermo Fisher conducts business (collectively, “business representatives”). We also require our suppliers to comply with and abide by our Supplier Code of Conduct.

While Thermo Fisher is required to comply with applicable domestic and foreign laws and regulations, this Policy goes beyond mere compliance with law. This Policy supports Thermo Fisher's voluntary commitment to the UN Global Compact and is a tool to assist us in fulfilling our responsibility to respect human rights in alignment with the ILO’s Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work and the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights. When differences arise between Thermo Fisher standards (including this Policy) and legal requirements, the stricter standard shall apply, in compliance with applicable law.

Policy Principles & Commitments

Human Rights

Compliance with Labor Laws
Thermo Fisher must comply with all applicable labor laws, rules, and regulations, including but not limited to those pertaining to the topics discussed below.

Prohibition of Child Labor
Thermo Fisher prohibits the use of child labor. The minimum age for full-time employment must be the higher of (i) fifteen (15), (ii) the age for completing compulsory education, and (iii) the legal minimum age for employment under applicable local laws and regulations. Additionally, Thermo Fisher may not employ children under 18 years of age for work that is likely to jeopardize their health or safety. The use of legitimate workplace learning programs, which comply with all laws and regulations, is supported.

Prohibition of Forced Labor / Prison Labor / Trafficking In Persons
- Thermo Fisher prohibits the use of forced or bonded labor (including debt bondage), human trafficking, modern slavery or any other exploitative labor practices (collectively referred to as “forced labor”) in our business and value chain. Thermo Fisher is prohibited from engaging in any form of forced labor, including using forced labor in the performance of work, including directly or indirectly sourcing goods, wares, articles, or merchandise (including parts and components) mined, produced, or manufactured wholly or in part by forced labor.
- All work must be voluntary, and workers shall be free to leave work at any time or terminate their employment without penalty.
- Thermo Fisher shall not retain, destroy, conceal, confiscate, or withhold any of their worker’s identity or immigration documents, such as government-issued identification, passports, or work permits, unless required by law.
- Thermo Fisher shall not collect recruitment fees from their workers. Nor shall workers be required to pay employers’ agents or sub-agents’ recruitment fees or other related fees for their employment.

Non-Discrimination and Equal Opportunity

We strive to provide an inclusive environment free from all forms of discrimination and harassment on the basis of sex (which includes pregnancy, childbirth, breastfeeding, or related medical conditions, the actual sex of the individual, or their gender identity or gender expression), race, color, religion (including religious dress practices and religious grooming practices), sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, marital status, familial status, age, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic information, protected veteran or military status, or any other protected classes which may exist under applicable law. Thermo Fisher employees are expected to treat co-workers, customers, and business partners with dignity and respect. We are committed to providing a workplace free of sexual harassment as well as harassment based on any of the factors described above.

It is Thermo Fisher's policy to afford equal opportunity for employment to all individuals. We do not tolerate discrimination, harassment or retaliation on the basis of the factors described above, regardless of whether the discrimination, harassment and / or retaliation occurs directly or indirectly. Our commitment to equal employment opportunity applies to recruitment, hiring, promotion, demotion, transfer, discipline, layoff, termination, rates of pay, selection for training, and every other type of pre- and post-employment personnel activity, with due regard to an individual’s job-related qualifications and abilities, with or without reasonable accommodation.

Anyone engaging in conduct prohibited by this policy is subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination of employment.

Reasonable Accommodation

Thermo Fisher will endeavor to make a reasonable accommodation to the known physical or mental limitations of qualified employees with disabilities unless the accommodation would impose an undue hardship on the operation of our business. If any employee believes he or she needs assistance to perform his or her job duties because of a physical or mental condition, please contact Human Resources.

Thermo Fisher will endeavor to make a reasonable accommodation for an employee’s religious beliefs. If any employee believes he or she needs a religious accommodation to perform his or her job duties, please contact Human Resources.

Fair Treatment

Thermo Fisher shall provide a workplace free of harsh and inhumane treatment, including any sexual harassment, sexual abuse, corporal punishment, mental or physical coercion, bullying, public shaming, or verbal abuse and no threat of any such treatment.

Thermo Fisher shall not hire or use public or private security forces, unless such forces are given detailed and appropriate instructions and are responsibly overseen in such a way as to prevent human rights abuses.
Wages, Benefits and Working Hours
Thermo Fisher adheres to applicable wage laws, including minimum wages, overtime hours and mandated benefits, and those regarding maximum number of working hours. Thermo Fisher shall communicate with employees on the basis on which they are being compensated in a timely manner. All overtime must be voluntary.

Freedom of Association
Open communication and direct engagement with workers to resolve workplace and compensation issues is encouraged. The Company shall respect the rights of workers, as set forth in local laws, to associate freely, join or not join labor unions, seek representation, and join workers’ councils. Workers shall be able to communicate openly with management regarding working conditions without threat of reprisal, intimidation, or harassment.

Health and Safety
Thermo Fisher and its employees are expected to operate in accordance with The Thermo Fisher EHS Policy.

Worker Protection
Thermo Fisher is committed to providing a healthy and safe workplace for our workers, along with protecting the communities in which we operate. Thermo Fisher will seek to provide a safe and healthy workplace in compliance with laws and regulations. Thermo Fisher shall seek to protect workers from over exposure to chemical, biological and physical hazards, physically demanding tasks in the workplace and in any company-provided living quarters. Thermo Fisher shall provide adequate resources to manage workplace safety and to ensure that all workers understand and properly exercise safety practices and procedures.

Emergency Preparedness and Response
Thermo Fisher shall identify and assess emergency situations in the workplace and seek to minimize its impact by implementing emergency plans and response procedures.

Hazard Information
Safety information relating to hazardous materials, including biological agents, genetically modified organisms, pharmaceutical compounds and pharmaceutical intermediate materials, shall be available to educate, train and protect workers from hazards.

Environmentally Responsible Practices
Thermo Fisher seeks to ensure the environmental integrity of its processes. We shall take reasonable efforts to identify the environmental impacts of our business and mitigate adverse impacts on the community, environment, and natural resources. We will aim to conserve natural resources, to avoid the use of hazardous materials where practicable and to engage in activities that reuse and recycle. Thermo Fisher shall take reasonable steps to prevent harm to soil, land, and water supplies, air quality, or cause noise emissions, in each case, that could impair access to drinking water supplies, food supplies, access to sanitary facilities or that otherwise harms the health and livelihood of individuals.
Reporting Mechanism

We will not allow any form of retaliation against individuals who raise questions or concerns regarding this policy in good faith. At any time, if an individual believes that he or she has been wrongfully discriminated, harassed or retaliated against, or has witnessed such conduct, such individual is strongly encouraged to report his or her concerns to Human Resources, a member of the Company’s Legal Department or to Thermo Fisher’s Global Ethics Hotline at 888-267-5255 or at www.GlobalEthicsHotline.com. Please note, individuals in Germany should call 0800 8 437 663.

We will promptly investigate allegations and seek to pursue appropriate action to mitigate and remediate any adverse human rights impacts. There will be no retaliation against victims or witnesses for notifying the Company about such conduct or for cooperating with the Company’s investigation thereof. All individuals are encouraged to report concerns, risks, illegal activities in the workplace, or violations of this Policy without threat of reprisal, intimidation, or harassment.
